

Following the success of our first event in Berlin, we invite colleagues from the Nordic dermatological community to join the organizing committee for the Scientific Exchange of Young Dermatological Researchers 2024. This upcoming event is scheduled to unfold in Amsterdam, during the European Academy of Dermatology and Venerology (EADV) Congress in September 2024, after the congress' scientific program. The aim of our event is to create a platform for young dermatologist to network, gain insight into research from neighboring countries, showcase their own scientific work, promote research opportunities, and enhance collaborations among the Nordic countries in the dermatological community.

Join the organizing committee for the Nordic Dermatology Association's (NDA) Scientific Exchange of Young Dermatological Researchers 2024!

By joining the organizing committee, you have the chance to contribute valuable insights to the specific needs of young dermatologist in your country, making the event more relevant and impactful. Your assistance in distributing invitations ensures a diverse representation across the Nordic countries. Additionally, active participation in the organizing tasks offers you hands-on experience in coordinating international scientific events.

This is also a unique opportunity to collaborate with the Nordic Dermatological Association (NDA) and connect with dermatologists across all the Nordic countries, expanding your professional network. We aim to have 1-2 representatives from each country on the organizing committee and welcome any additional support.

We hope you will join us in making this event a collaborative and enriching experience for the dermatological community!

If you are interested in joining or have any questions do not hesitate to contact us.
