Research Grant

Nordic Dermatology Association Research Grant 2025

For the sixth consecutive year, the Nordic Dermatology Association (NDA) will offer a NDA Research Grant 2025 (100,000 SEK). Applications will be admitted starting on August 18th, 2025. The grant will be given to one (or split between several) dermatological trainee or either resident or a recently approved specialist in dermatology and venereology (up to three years of clinical experience) working in a Nordic country and who is either a PhD student or a Postdoctoral researcher at their early career. Priority will be given to those who have not received NDA grant previously.

Research projects on dermatological diseases with few funding possibilities and planned Nordic collaboration or mobility involving research visit to another Nordic country are considered advantageous.

The applications will be evaluated by the NDA Research Committee according to their clinical and scientific importance and feasibility.

Applications should be written in English and sent as a single pdf-file including:

- Short CV, including a list of publications (if any).
- Short research plan, maximum 3 pages including references (focus on research hypothesis and aims, methods and study relevance).
- Short description of how the grant will be utilized (budget, and if a plan includes mobility, description of how it will benefit the research project).
- In case of planned mobility, invitation letter from the welcoming research group leader.

Applications not meeting the criterion will not be evaluated.

Researchers receiving a NDA Research Grant are expected to provide an update and preliminary results of their research project to the NDA board within one year.

Applications can be sent between August 18th and October 12th, 2025 to: info@nordicdermatology.com.

Report from the Auditors for the years 2022–2024 for the Nordic Dermatology Association

We have audited the financial information of the Nordic Dermatology Association for the years 2022–2024. This is included as a financial summary for each year. You are presented with annual profit and loss tabulation in addition to the incoming and outgoing balance each year. The auditors have reviewed all the financial transactions towards the bank statements and found no material errors. The audit has been performed according to generally acceptable principles but not to specific codes, national or international regulations.

In our opinion, the financial information has been prepared in material respects in a transparent and accountable manner.
